THE SISTER.

She never knew that music soft and sweet—
The patter of a little baby's feet;
She never knew the world of joy and bliss
That lingers in a husband's tender kiss;
She never knew the heartache and the pain
Of living, loving, and that loving vain;
She never knew the sorrow and the woe
Of losing light from eyes whose radiant glow
Was all her sun!

She lives in vain, you say?
If, then, to live in vain, is day by day
To go among the lowly and the poor—
A ray of sunshine to each darkened door;
To soothe with gentle words and gentle touch
Wretches who sinned, and sinned to suffer much;
To be the link that joins a weary life
To God; to be the comfort of strife;
To be the soothing balm for every pain—
Then that grand woman truly lives in vain!

TO WOOL GROWERS.

To the Wool Growers of the State of Nevada:

GENTLEMEN:—At a meeting of the Wool Growers' Association of the State of Nevada, held at Winnemucca, on the 8th day of September, ultimo, a resolution was adopted to support only such party or candidate, in the coming election, as favors a restoration of the wool tariff of 1867. The adoption of this resolution was caused by the more than questionable attitude of the Democratic party on the tariff question, which gives good ground for fear that its policy is inimical to our interests, and that they might be utterly destroyed by its enforcement. The free trade tendencies of that party are undisputed and acknowledged. While it has dodged the question by an attempt to take both sides of it, the fact is patent that it opposes a tariff for protection, a policy which, on the other hand, the Republican party is earnestly and unmistakably committed to. The Republican party and its candidates, and what concerns us more especially, its candidate for Congress in this State, are pledged to a restoration of the tariff of 1867. The Democratic party, neither in its platform, its Congressional record, nor the utterances of its candidates, has ever, directly or indirectly, uttered a word in favor of such restoration. It is true that a Republican Congress reduced the tariff of 1867, but the circumstances of its reduction were peculiar. A strong public demand was made for a reduction of the revenue. This led to the appointment of a Commission to report a tariff reduction bill, two of the members of which were understood to represent the interest of the wool growers. The bill which they reported was, so far as the wool tariff was concerned, adopted by committees of both houses of Congress, and no protest or petition or representation was made by, or on behalf of the wool growers, until the eve of the passage of the bill, when their opposition came too late to be effective. The Democrats voted against the bill, it is true, but for the reason that the reduction was not enough, and they desired to reduce the wool tariff still more than was provided for in the Act of 1882. It is unnecessary to follow the history of tariff legislation since then, but it will suffice to show that the Morrison tariff bill, which was supported by a great portion of the Democratic representatives in Congress, and only failed to pass because of a difference of opinion as to details, would have reduced the low tariff fixed by the Act of 1882 twenty per cent. still lower. How absurd it is then to expect that the Democratic party, with its constant and growing tendency toward the reduction of the wool tariff, would restore it to a protective basis.

The records of the Forty-seventh Congress show the following incontrovertible facts:

1. When the President recommended, in his second message to the 47th Congress, the reduction of the duty on wool and woolen goods, no Democratic newspaper or member of Congress uttered a word or took a step toward preventing it.

2. When the Tariff Commission made its report on the 1st Monday of December, 1882, recommending a reduction of the duty on wool and woolen goods, no Democratic member of that committee voted in favor of the reduction of the duty on wool.

3. When the Finance Committee of the Senate reached the woolen schedule, every Democratic member of that committee voted in favor of the reduction of the duty on wool.

4. When the Ways and Means Committee of the House reached the woolen schedule every Democratic member of that committee voted in favor of the reduction of the duty on wool.

5. When the woolen schedule was reached in the Senate, in the consideration of the Senate tariff bill, every Democratic Senator voted in favor of the reduction of the duty on wool.

6. When Senator Sherman, on the 19th day of February, 1883, moved to increase the duty on wool in the Senate tariff bill, only three Democrats voted in favor of the increase.

7. When the Ways and Means Committee held a special meeting during the last days of the 47th Congress, to reconsider the woolen schedule in the House bill, every Republican member of the committee voted to restore the duty of 1867, and every Democratic member voted against it. We could continue to quote innumerable evidences of the hostility of the Democracy to the wool-growing interests, but its opposition to a protective tariff on the raw wool is so well known, and has been so constantly shown, that it would be useless. The Republican party and its candidates are in explicit terms pledged to a restoration of the tariff of 1867. The Democratic party, while refraining from any mention of the subject, is palpably opposed to such restoration. Under the circumstances we beg to impress upon you a sense of the importance of supporting the Republican party and its candidates, and more especially its candidate for Congress, who has especially pledged himself to labor to secure the restoration of the wool tariff of 1867, as against his Democratic opponent who voted for the Morrison bill, which sought to secure a reduction of twenty per cent. on the already low tariff of 1882.

By order of the Nevada Wool Growers' Association.
Respectfully submitted,
S. C. HILL, President.
P. L. FLANAGAN, Secretary.
RENO, October 22, 1884.

In an address at the opening of the recent Mechanics' Fair in Boston, Theodore Lyman gave an interesting account of the origin of county agricultural fairs, which have contributed so powerfully to the advancement of nearly all industrial interests. The first of these was held in New York more than sixty years ago, and out of them grew the great system of State and institute fairs, in which our own Mechanics' Institute has made so proud a record, and which embrace the entire range of agricultural and manufactured products. A still higher continuation of the idea is seen in the great international or world's fairs of London, Paris, Philadelphia and New Orleans.

Mr. Austin Colvin, president of several railroad companies, has made a formal offer to the cities of New York and Brooklyn to pay $250,000 a year for the right to operate the railway passenger business on the East River Bridge, or $450,000 a year for the use of the bridge, including all rights now belonging to those cities. He offers to guarantee that the tolls for passengers or teams shall never be in excess of those now charged, and in private declares that he will make the railway fare 2 cents and the truck fare 25 per cent. lower than those now in force. This rental would be less than 3 per cent. on the cost of the bridge.

Although 98 years of age, Jas. Caldwell, of Eastman, Ga., was an expert shot with a sporting rifle and frequently went squirrel shooting last Fall. He died a few days ago.

FOR PRESIDENT.
JAS. G. BLAINE,
OF MAINE.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT.
JOHN A. LOGAN,
OF ILLINOIS.

The Irish Catholics of the East are strongly in favor of Blaine.

The election will be held next Tuesday, and if Dr. Hogan isn't careful Beck will have him tenderly cared for.

Senator John Sherman says that Blaine is certain to carry every Northern State, and his election is a foregone conclusion.

Hannibal Hamlin is the oldest living stump speaker, having been engaged in active politics since the days of Andrew Jackson.

The Republicans are confident of carrying New York and Indiana and are hopeful of securing the electoral votes of Virginia and Louisiana.

It is six weeks since Blaine left Augusta, Maine, on his tour, and in that time he has traveled 9,000 miles and made from ten to thirty speeches every day.

Hogan and crowd hired the theater and attended to the details for Clarke's meeting at the theater, but he didn't make the Greenback speech expected of him, and the Dr. and his crowd are perfectly furious.

Hogan pretends to be a Greenbacker, but we do not believe he really knows what he is. Every time he gets started on political matters he boasts of having been a Republican in the earlier and purer days of the Republic.

It is reported that Dr. Hogan will devote himself to his profession after the election. If the Dr. would put in the time to studying medicine and surgery he wastes farming and printing he would soon be the "boss" Doctor of the State.

Election day draws near. Are you going to vote in favor of high protective tariff, or in favor of pauper labor and the English aristocracy? The Republican party represents the former and the Democracy the latter. Take your choice.

No better man could have been selected for the office of Secretary of the Treasury than Hugh McCollough. He is one of the ablest financiers in the country, sharing with Hamilton, Gallatin and Chase the credit of having that genius which overcomes great obstacles and lays out new policies and finances.

When long-headed John Sherman and that astute politician, President Arthur, publicly assert that the Republican nominees will carry every Northern State, it inspires every follower of Blaine and Logan with the courage of conviction. It means that Blaine, Logan and protection will win by a larger electoral vote than that given to Garfield. It means a Republican Congress, an American navy and an American policy.

Mexico is going to "astonish the world" at the New Orleans Exposition. She will have a building 192 feet by 288, enclosing an open courtyard 115 by 184 feet. The general plan is that of a Mexican gentleman's residence, and it will be one of the features of the exhibition, as it will embody the most advanced ideas in Mexican architecture. Besides this, Mexico will have a large octagonal building for her mineral exhibit, built entirely of iron, a fairy-like structure, being a combination of columns and arches, with elaborate and delicate tracery, so that from a short distance it will look like a piece of lace work.

On the 92d birthday of Mrs. Anna McIntyre, of Fonda, N. Y., she delighted her guests by playing "Auld Lang Syne" on the piano.

IRISHMEN AND CATHOLICS.

The Strong Support They are Giving Blaine in the East.

INDIANAPOLIS, October 28.—Father Hugh O'Neill, priest of St. Patrick's parish of this city, left for New York this afternoon, where he will present to Mr. Blaine a gold-headed cane, voted to him at a fair given by his church people last week. The vote stood 389 for Blaine to 196 for Cleveland. Before he left to-day Father O'Neill, in an interview, was asked if the vote was a fair exponent of the strength of Blaine among the Irish Catholics. Without answering the question directly he said: "Blaine is very strong in my parish, which, by the way, is largely Irish. The men at the fair seemed to be voting for Blaine, while the children voted for Cleveland."

"Has there been a change this campaign in the political sentiments of Catholics?"

"A total change; a very great change. I understand that 70 per cent of the Catholic clergy of New York are for Blaine."

"To what is this due?"

"I could not say, sir. Blaine is not a Catholic. We do not so consider him. He never was a Catholic, though some of his people were. But it makes no difference to us what his religion is. In Ireland and England we Irish vote for an Irishman before a Catholic."

"Do you, then, consider Blaine as an Irishman, in sympathy at least?"

"He gets credit for it at any rate."

The Very Rev. Father Stephen, a distinguished Catholic priest of Washington, is in the city. Father Stephen is the representative of twenty Bishops of the far West in looking after the interests of Indian children in schools East and of other Indians. He is reputed to be a bold, fearless leader and remarkable for his independence and broad-mindedness. He called to-day upon Commissioner Dudley, with whom in political views he is in accord, being a strong Blaine man.

NO BETTER MAN.

The Gazette says: Washoe county has not been overly clever to Washoe county boys. A number of men who have lived here from early boyhood have asked in vain for political preferment. It is not a good way to encourage our youth to say, practically, that no one who has grown to manhood here shall have a chance to show what is in him. The Republican candidate for Assessor, though now in the prime of manhood, has lived here since the county was settled and was educated and began his business life since he became a resident of Washoe. He has had abundant experience in all departments of the public service, having served in some capacity in every office in the county except that of District Judge. He has been Deputy Assessor for years, and has assisted Dan Boyd when pressing duties demanded an assistant, for the last six years. He has copied papers in the District Attorney's office and assisted the Recorder, Sheriff and Clerk. Mr. Roff is a well educated gentleman of refined tastes and excellent habits, with a wife and family to steady him and health and energy to sustain him. His knowledge of business is the result of an actual experience of county affairs and is complete. He has the confidence of every one in all matters of a financial character and no one has warmer personal friends. Profound political convictions have made him an earnest Republican although he comes from Democratic ancestry, and he has been an active and outspoken member of the former party for years. There is no suspicion anywhere that anything will come in the way of a complete devotion to do duty on his part if elected Assessor. He has no affiliations which would cause favoritism and no prejudice or bias that would breed oppression. His work would be fairly, intelligently and completely done.

Bat La Prairie was born in Michigan in 1772. He is part Indian and part French. He entered the American army when 34 years old, and was soldier and scout and interpreter through the war of 1812. He joined the army again in 1846, and served in the Mexican war under General Scott. His age and infirmities caused his rejection when he volunteered in our late civil war, but he was sworn into service during the Indian troubles in Minnesota. He was never wounded but once. He is now living at Marshfield, Wis., and is supported by private contributions. He drinks all kinds of liquors, and has used tobacco for 95 years.

At a recent wedding in Russia the parents of the groom, who were both present, were aged respectively 103 and 96 years.

THE COPPERHEAD CANDIDATE.

Hendricks Refuses to Take the Hand of a Union Soldier.

VINTON (Ia.), October 28.—Hon. A. J. Baker, Republican candidate for Attorney-General, in his speech in this place last night told the following incident: "I was to-day in the office of Mr. L. C. Blythe, of Vera Springs. In the course of conversation he told me an incident in relation to Thomas A. Hendricks that made my blood boil. Dr. Blythe was a soldier in the Union army and was severely wounded in battle. He came home on a furlough and while at home went with his father to Indianapolis. His father's sister was the wife of Hendricks' brother, and the families were socially intimate. While in Indianapolis they called at Hendricks' office. Hendricks shook hands with the father, but refused to do so with the son, because he wore a Federal uniform. The young son indignantly turned on his heel and left the office. After he went out Hendricks said to the father: 'Mr. Blythe, I should like to invite you to my house to dinner, where you are always a welcome guest, but I cannot ask that boy to go there with you while he wears that uniform.' The father cursed Mr. Hendricks and told him that he did not nor did his son desire to be entertained by a copperhead." The incident created quite a sensation in the audience, and several soldiers cried out, "We would rather hang him than vote for him!"

THE EMPIRE STATE.

The Majority for Blaine Estimated at Not Less Than 30,000.

New York, October 28.—The Mail and Express prints an elaborate review of New York State politics to-night, showing that Blaine will carry the State by a plurality of from 30,000 to 40,000. The full vote of the State will be 1,300,000, according to the ratio of increase prevalent for twenty years past. Butler's vote is placed at 45,000, which the Republicans say will be drawn exclusively from Democratic sources, 12,000 votes being accorded him in this city. The Mail and Express is certain that the Prohibition vote will not hold together until election day. The paper goes on to say that Tammany Hall is in desperate straits and must elect Grant Mayor, which means that trading and swapping of every sort will be resorted to, Cleveland being knifed without mercy. The Mail and Express is presumed to speak by the card of the John Kelly deal with the Republicans.

In every part of the country the railroads have been much troubled by the rank growth of weeds on and near to their tracks, which have cost them a great deal of money and trouble to eradicate. The Burlington road is trying a contrivance devised to destroy these weeds, and which promises to prove quite successful. It consists of two iron pipes projecting on each side of the engine in front. The exhaust steam is conducted into these pipes instead of into the smoke-stack, and the steam and gas are therefore thrown out close to the track in front of the engine on each side. It kills weeds and grass for two feet on each side of the track.

The centennial anniversary of the birth of Mrs. Eunice Hollister was celebrated at East Glastonbury, Conn., on August 9th.

SUMMONS.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE SEVENTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT, OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF WASHOE.
The State of Nevada sends to W. H. CLANCY, greeting: You are required to appear in an action commenced against you as defendant, by Sophia M. Clancy, as plaintiff, in the District Court of the Seventh Judicial District, in and for the county of Washoe, State of Nevada, and answer the complaint therein within ten days after the service on you of this summons—exclusive of the day of service—if served in said county, or twenty days if served out of said county, but within said District, and in all other cases forty days; or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint. The said action is brought to recover a judgment and decree dissolving the bonds of matrimony existing between you and the said plaintiff on the ground of willful desertion and failure to provide for the said plaintiff and her children. Plaintiff also asks for the custody of her three children, Charles William, Cladd and Don, all of which will more fully appear from the Complaint, which is on file in the office of the Clerk of said Court at Reno in said county. And you are further notified that if you fail to appear and answer said Complaint, the said plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded.
In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand this 30th day of October, A. D. 1894.

Did anybody ever experience weather more lovely than that with which we are now blessed?

John Cannon and family will leave the last of next week for Oakland to spend the Winter.

Judge Sabin, of the U. S. District Court, returned from San Francisco yesterday morning.

John W. Mackay will be up from the Bay to-morrow morning on his way to Virginia to vote for Blaine and Logan.

Jerry Tyler returned from Virginia City yesterday, whither he has been with a large shipment of Honey Lake apples.

George M. Lee, one of the Lundy shootists, is said to be a nephew of the Lee of Mountain Meadows massacre notoriety.

Hon. H. F. Bartine, of Carson, was in town yesterday. Arrangements will probably be made to have him speak in Reno next Monday night.

The JOURNAL erroneously credited to the Elko Independent an item about Senator Jones, which should have been credited to the Elko Free Press.

The Republican county candidates had a splendid time at Verdi night before last. Last night they all enjoyed themselves with the voters of Franktown precinct.

Ed. Raum, for four consecutive terms Sheriff of White Pine county, died last Friday of epilepsy. Mr. Raum was a good citizen and highly respected by the people of that county.

John H. Kinkad has been cited to appear at Carson on the 10th of November to show cause why his letters of administration of the estate of James Kinkad, deceased, should not be revoked.

The new stock of clothing and furnishing goods at the White House is simply immense. It may seem strange, but the fact is there is not another retail clothing house on the coast that carries as big a stock as Abrahams Brothers.

On or about the 5th of November Emrich, of the Nevada Cash Store, will move to the place formerly occupied by F. Levy & Bro. Meantime Emrich will sell all kinds of dry goods and cloaks at a great reduction. Do not fail to price his goods.

The Washoe Mill and Lumber Co. has not failed nor made an assignment, and is continuing to run its planing mill, box factory and to do a general lumber and wood business. And the JOURNAL wants it understood that Wm. Henry is still Manager.

District Court.

The District Court was in session yesterday as was also the Grand Jury. The Jury however simply met informally, and adjourned until 10 o'clock today. There was no business transacted either by the Court or Jury.

THE CLARK CASE.

"A Taxpayer" Gets the Information Sought.

ED. JOURNAL.—I regret exceedingly the necessity which compels me to resort to the newspapers to explain an official act, but in relation to the Clark case, about which so much has been said of late, in justice to myself and friends I feel in duty bound to speak. At the time Mr. Clark was arrested the officers believed they were in possession of sufficient testimony to convict. On the following day, when the case was to be heard, the only evidence that could be produced on the part of the State was the testimony of one Indian. Against this was the testimony of Clark and his clerks. This was the testimony upon which a jury would have been asked to decide the case. Having myself very serious doubts as to the ability of the State to convict on the unsupported testimony of the Indian as against the white witnesses for the defense, I submitted the matter to the District Attorney for his judgment and advice; Clark in the meantime having strenuously denied the truth of the charge, but, as he said, rather than submit to the publicity of a public trial and the expense of employing an attorney, would pay a reasonable fine. The District Attorney was also advised of this proposition, and after some deliberation advised me to accept a small fine and dismiss the case. Acting in good faith upon the advice thus given I informed Clark that if he desired to pay I would make the fine $30. He emphatically refused to plead guilty, but would pay the amount and did so at that moment and left the Court room. In entering the transaction in the docket I, upon my own motion, entered the plea of guilty. That is all there is in that transaction, and for the truth of which the public are referred to the officers and all others who had any knowledge of the facts in the case. As to the poor soldier, who was fined $120, it is only necessary to say that he was tried and convicted by a jury of twelve men. No one in this community knows these facts better than John Bowman, who, in a communication to the Plaindealer a few days ago, in relation to this matter, signed himself "Taxpayer."

The Latest.

The very latest article in the grocery line out has just been received by Galatin & Folsom, direct from the factory in Chicago. It is called "King's Favorite Food," and is a compound of ground popcorn, Mexican pinole and oat meal. It is cooked ready for the table, and is a most excellent and wholesome food for breakfast, and a delicious dessert for dinner, and is an unequalled diet for children and invalids. Try it.

The Verdi Meeting.

A large delegation went from here Wednesday evening to attend the blow-out at Verdi, and all agree that they had a splendid time. The dance did not open until after the arrival of the 9:30 train, in the mean time the Republican candidates held an enthusiastic meeting and entertained the assembled audience for more than two hours.

Will Recover.

The friends of F. W. Dunn, of the Nevada Central Railroad, who left Battle Mountain a few weeks ago for the Eastern States in a dying condition, as was supposed, and as he himself thought, will be pleased to learn that he is at his home in Brimfield, Illinois, in a fair way to recover.

Doing Well.

Mr. Driggs, the gentleman who was so severely injured by the capsizing of the express wagon in front of the Palace during Fair week, still carries his arm in a sling, but is getting along first rate. In the fall one bone in the left fore-arm was broken.

Notice.

It is reported that I have already selected a Deputy Sheriff to serve under me in case I am elected. I wish to state emphatically that such is not the case. Should I be elected it will then be time enough to make such selection.

J. J. BECKER.

All the Plumas and Lassen county freighters pulled out yesterday and will push through in time to vote.

THE BEEVES.

Improved Breeds of Cattle on Nevada Ranges.

The Silver State says:

The Nevada Land and Cattle Company, whose headquarters are at Kelly Creek, in the eastern part of the county, sold last week to Chapman & Horn, of San Francisco, one thousand head of beef cattle. Some four hundred head of this purchase were shipped last week from Iron Point. Cattle dealers say the bees will dress on an average nearly 700 pounds each. This shows the effect of introducing good breeds of cattle among Nevada herds. Some years ago T. D. Parkinson, who is managing the affairs of the Company, bought some fine short-horn Durhams, from the Jesse D. Carr herds in California, and took them to the Kelly Creek ranch. From these and their progeny, the Company sell a number of thoroughbred bulls annually, besides improving their own herds by crossing the ordinary stock with Durhams. The graded stock, some of which are as large as thoroughbreds, thrive as well as the native breeds on the plains and mountain ranges. Last year the Kelly Creek ranch, in this county, and the L. L. ranch, in Elko county, which adjoins it, and on which the cattle were also crossed with Durhams, were consolidated under the name of the Nevada Land and Cattle Company. On these ranches the bees purchased by Horn & Chapman were raised, and stock men say many of them are as fine-limbed and as large in size as pure-blooded Durhams. It is also said these improved breeds are worth from seven to ten dollars a head more than ordinary cattle, and as they stand the Winters and do as well on Nevada cattle ranges as the common breeds of cattle, that ought to be a sufficient inducement for all stock owners to improve their herds. As the price of cattle keeps up, with no prospect of a material reduction, no doubt, in a few years, Nevada ranges will all be stocked with improved breeds of cattle.

Petrefied Forests in the United States.

Stone forests are in many parts of the world. A number of stony trees have been received at the Smithsonian Institute from the West. In many cases they are hardened by the peculiar atmosphere as they stand, and in others they are buried, the parts being replaced by mineral matter. The little Colorado river in Arizona has long been a famous locality for such finds. At one place more than fifteen hundred cords of trunks and sections of logs were found by government surveyors. Most of them were silicified. Many are seven feet or more in diameter, and from twenty to seventy feet in height. The greater part of them have probably been covered in the marl that originally was one thousand feet thick. Some of the trees are changed to jasper, assuming numerous hues, while others resemble opal, and when broken open, the core is often found lined with crystals of the most beautiful tints. Louisiana and Ohio are noted localities for fossil trees. In the former state, several years ago, in turning up the ground an ancient forest layer was unearthed, and in succession two others below it; and scientists judge, from the size of the trees, that from the time of the first layer to the last sixty thousand years must have elapsed. In the remains of the glacial drift in Ohio old forests are often discovered. Some have been buried beneath the water by the sinking of the land. Some of the Ohio trees are not entirely changed into stone, being yet soft, while others are found in all stages from rock to porous sponge matter.

NEVADA REPUBLICAN.—A prominent Nevada politician and State Senator who is in this city expressed a very strong opinion yesterday to the effect that Nevada would give a 1,000 majority vote for Blaine and Logan. The only fight which the Democratic party is making is for Cassidy for Congress. He is opposed by Woodburn, who made a good record in Congress and is especially strong in the western division of the State. The vote between them will be close, with the odds in favor of the Republican candidate. The State Legislature will certainly be Republican, which settles the question of the United States Senatorship. The Supreme Judge will also be Republican, he present incumbent having all the chances in his favor. This opinion coincides with advices from other sources. Nevada will join the Republican column of States and help to swell Blaine's majority.—S. F. Chronicle.
